

Name _____

DIRECTIONS: Fill in each blank with a transition from the box. Use each transition only once. At the end of the paragraph, circle the pattern of organization that is used in the paragraph.

third several too finally another

5 Ways to Have Fun without Spending a Penny

You can have a lot of fun without spending a lot of money.

_____ ideas come immediately to mind. Many communities hold events that are both free and open to the public.

_____ idea is to visit your local library. Most libraries will let you borrow both books and movies, and libraries often have free educational programs for both adults and kids. A _____ idea is to listen to some podcasts. There are many well-done audio programs, for example from public radio stations, which are available for you to listen to for free. Board games are fun _____.

Or how about just walking next door and meeting your neighbors?

_____, you could start a blog about something that interests you. I think just these five ideas alone prove that you don't have to spend money to have fun!

compare/contrast

Listing

Definition

ANSWERS

You can have a lot of fun without spending a lot of money. Several ideas come immediately to mind. Many communities hold events that are both free and open to the public. Another idea is to visit your local library. Most libraries will let you borrow both books and movies, and libraries often have free educational programs for both adults and kids. A third idea is to listen to some podcasts. There are many well-done audio programs, for example from public radio stations, which are available for you to listen to for free. Board games are fun too. Or how about just walking next door and meeting your neighbors? Finally, you could start a blog about something that interests you. I think just these five ideas alone prove that you don't have to spend money to have fun!

Listing