

Name _____

Make Them a Question

Interrogative pronouns are used in sentences that ask questions. The interrogative pronouns are who, whose, whom, what, why, which, when and where.

Directions: Turn each of the sentences below into a question, using an interrogative pronoun.

1. The movie I rented is due back tomorrow.

2. My mother is very funny.

3. I hate dogs because they bark all the time.

4. The girl is living with her grandparents because her house burned down.

5. The cyclist wearing the red helmet won the race.

6. The Ms. James who works at our school gives piano lessons.

7. This purse is of very good quality.

8. The man you met yesterday is very smart.

9. The boys whose parents are doctors are rowdy.

10. The kitten I want is an orange tabby.

ANSWERS

1. When is the movie you rented due back?
2. Who is very funny?
3. Why do you hate dogs?
4. Why is the girl living with her grandparents?
5. Which cyclist won the race?
6. Which Ms. James gives piano lessons?
7. Which purse is of good quality?
8. Which man is very smart?
9. Which boys are rowdy?
10. What kind of kitten do you want?