Think of something you have heard in the news recently. On the lines below, write a short essay to inform your class about it. Remember, expository writing should always be clear, well organized, and free of opinion—stick to the facts. Eliminate any information that is not relevant to the topic.

Name _____